Wyoming Animal Damage Management Program

What is the Animal Damage Management Board (ADMB)?

The Wyoming Animal Damage Management Board (ADMB) was formed by the 1999 Legislature and is a 15 member (12 voting, 3 ex-officio) Governor appointed board comprised of various wildlife, sportsman, conservation, urban and agriculture interests.

The ADMB's Mission Statement

The Governor appointed ADMB Mission is to coordinate and implement an integrated Animal Damage Management Program, based on best available science, for the benefit of human and natural resources throughout Wyoming.

What is the Animal Damage Management Program?

The Animal Damage Management Program is a new approach to managing damage caused by animals. The overall concept establishes a statewide integrated animal damage management program. Specifically, the program will coordinate wildlife, livestock, public health/safety damage prevention and protection.

Expected Benefits

Listed below are just a few of the expected benefits of the integrated program:

- Wildlife, agricultural and public safety issues can be addressed.
- Additional revenues to address major issues of concern.
- Improved coordination between all wildlife interests, agriculture, predatory animal districts, state & federal agencies, etc.
- Resources are pooled from all entities into one program.

Program Funding

Program funding has been derived from the following sources:

- General appropriation from the Wyoming Legislature.
- Voluntary $0.10 (ten cent) per head brand inspection fee on livestock.
- Annually, $100,000 funding request from the WY Game & Fish Commission.
- Voluntary transfer from private landowners any monies received from landowner coupons.
- Wildlife Damage Management Stamp, available for sale at designated WY license selling agents.

Your Support Is Needed

Your support of this program is vital to its success. Until January, 2009, the Animal Damage Management Program is a pilot study. During this period, the Board must annually report the results to the Governor and the Wyoming Legislature.

How You Can Help to Support This Program

- If you are eligible to receive landowner coupons, please consider donating a portion or all of these funds to the ADMB. It is a good investment for your future.
- Encourage sportsmen hunting on your property to purchase the Wildlife Damage Management Stamp. It has been determined to be legally acceptable for you to purchase the original cost from your domicile.
- Please consider donating the voluntary 10 cents per head per head brand inspection fee to the ADMB.
- Donations to the program are accepted.
- Work with your local Game and Fish Department personnel.
- Your lifelong land use experience are a valuable resource. Become involved and help provide education on predator/prey relationships in your community.
